

Siu H’Xuan – trafficked minor died in Saudi Arabia

Prepared by BPSOS, August 8, 2021

Latest update on February 1, 2022

Siu H’Xuân (aka Mlô), born October 30, 2003 (see birth certificate in Appendix 1), of J’rai ethnicity in To Zoa Village, Cu Amung Commune, Ea Hleo District, Dak Lak Province, was sent by VINACO to Saudi Arabia in October 2018. She was still under 18 years old when she passed away reportedly on July 17, 2021.

Siu H Xuan in Saudi Arabia

H Xuan’s father died a long time ago. Her mother, Siu H Ger, took care of five children, including H Xuan, an older sister, and three younger siblings. This household is certified as low-income. See certificate in Appendix 2.

A woman named Ms. Le Thi Toan recruited H Xuan for VINACO. Sometime in August 2018, Ms. Toan came to see H Xuan’s mother and took her to the village police station. Mrs. H Ger was told to sign the consent form for H Xuan to join the labor export program. As Mrs. H Ger hesitated -- she spoke little Vietnamese and was illiterate, a police officer took her hand and pressed her thumb for fingerprint in lieu of her signature on the VINACO form.

Shortly thereafter Ms. Toan asked H Xuan to meet her at a location away from H Xuan’s home. Her family did not hear from her for months. In October 2018, H Xuan called home to inform her mother and siblings that she was about to board the plane for Saudi Arabia. She cried, saying that she was not sure whether she would live to come back.

Once in Saudi Arabia, H Xuan frequently called her family. During the conversation her family learned that on the day H Xuan disappeared, she was taken by Ms. Toan straight to Thanh Hoa Province. H Xuan spent the next two months at VINACO to learn the Arabic language. During that time, H Xuan changed her mind and asked to go home. VINACO demanded that she pay 30 million VND (about US $1,300) for the clothes that Ms. Toan had bought for her and for the cost of Arabic language instructions. H Xuan did not have that money.

Mrs. H Ger learned that her 15-years old daughter was sent off to Saudi Arabia by VINACO's branch in Thanh Hoa Province under Vietnam's labor export program. The company reportedly falsified her personal documents, changing her year of birth year from 2003 to 1996 to cover up the fact that she was a minor.

Calling home, H Xuan informed her loved ones that she was beaten not only by the lady of the house but also by her children. She once passed out after being hit at the back of her neck. She was often left hungry. Her belongings were trashed by her employer. H Xuan repeatedly expressed her desire to go home.

By October 2020, H Xuan's two-years employment contract expired. She asked to fly home. Her employer explained that there was no flight available due to the COVID-19 pandemic. They kept her working past her employment contract and continued to mistreat her.

H Xuan's selfie showing her in a state of exhaustion

Then H Xuan's family lost contact with her on June 29, 2021.

From information that later surfaced, at least since June 21, 2021, H Xuan had made several calls to Mr. Nguyen Duy Khanh, VINACO's representative in Saudi Arabia, and to Mrs. Nguyen Thi Nhung, who is based in Ha Noi, explaining to them that she could not bear it any longer and begging them to transfer her to another host. Both of them told her to work harder. In June, fearing that she would die of exhaustion, she asked Mr. Khanh to allow her to stay temporarily at his office while waiting for repatriation. He declined, explaining that it was already crowded with other workers and that her frail health would make her more vulnerable to COVID-19 infection. The next day, H Xuan texted him: “Brother, I beg you to help me please.” See screenshot in Appendix 3.

Mr. Khanh shared with a Facebook friend of H Xuan the conversation he had with her. This Facebook friend recorded it. In the video clip, Mr. Khanh was heard saying that on July 4, H Xuan was supposed to board a flight for Vietnam but was turned away due to her high body temperature. This claim appears to contradict what other Vietnamese workers awaiting repatriation was told by the Vietnamese embassy: there has been no flight from Saudi Arabia to Vietnam since April 13. The recorded conversation with Mr. Khanh is available at: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HR-GuFkYHHE>

The same Facebook friend recorded the conversation with H Xuan had. The friend recalled that it was on July 16. Accordingly, H Xuan had called Mrs. Nguyen Thi Nhung, VINACO person in Ha Noi, who offered no help, scolded her, and disapproved her request to go home. H Xuan asked the Facebook friend if his employer would take her in for a month or two. H Xuan stressed that she may not stay alive for long with the current employer. She reported being physically abused, mistreated, and forced to overwork by the lady of the house. H Xuan reportedly suffered a persistent headache because of beatings to her head. She mentioned that a recent medical exam found no disease. Just before the call, she was reportedly whipped by her employer with a cord until she passed out. She begged Mrs. Nhung and Mr. Khanh to pick her up as she could not last a day longer. The recorded conversation (in J’Rai language with Vietnamese subtitle) is available at: <https://youtu.be/MajX6zcTmOQ>. The English translation is provided in Appendix 4.

On July 18, VINACO notified H Xuan’s mother that H Xuan had passed away due to a heart failure. Later, another person from VINACO called to inform the family that she died of virus infection of the heart and lungs. This person said that H Xuan was hospitalized on July 13 and was put on a ventilator. H Xuan’s recorded conversation of July 16 told a different story. After a medical examination found no serious sickness, she went home.

After learning of her daughter’s death, Mrs. H Ger pleaded with VINACO to bring H Xuan’s remains home, reminding them of her daughter’s past pleas for help. There was no response from VINACO. Then, on July 19, Mr. Y Cãn Kpã, Vice Chair of the People’s Committee of Amung Commune, invited Mrs. H Ger to the People’s Committee Office. On July 21, when she arrived, an officer of the District Police, Mr. Y Hanh Nie, was also present. They told her to sign the agreement for VINACO to cremate H Xuan’s remains in Saudi Arabia, which would destroy critical evidence needed by the Saudi police to conduct investigation. Mrs. H Ger refused to sign the consent form. See Appendix 5.

On August 4, VINACO officially reported H Xuan’s death and its circumstance to the Department of Labor, War Invalids and Social Affairs (DOLISA) of Dak Lak Province. The report shows that H Xuan was born on October, 30 1996, which differs from her real date of birth of October 30, 2003. See Appendix 5.

On August 8, Mrs. H Ger and Ms. Siu H'Xuan (aka H'Soan), H Xuan's older sister, both signed their consent for the UN, foreign embassies, and other international agencies to seek justice for H'Xuan. See Appendix 6.

Namely, Mrs. H Ger wants a copy of H'Xuan's employment contract, which VINACO never gave her a copy; an official written account of her death; proof of H Xuan's impending flight home on July 4; all relevant documents (including medical record, police report, autopsy result, etc.) from the Saudi Government; and the return of all of H Xuan's belongings, which are reportedly in the possession of VINACO's office in Riyadh. The family also requests criminal investigation by both the Vietnamese and Saudi authorities into the trafficking and death of a minor.

On July 18, Mrs. H'Ger was requested to come to the office of the People's Committee of Cu Amung Commune. There, she was informed of the death of her daughter. Then, an officer from the District Police Office insisted that the family must give full authority to VINACO to dispose H'Xuân's remains whichever way it saw fit.

VINACO sent Mrs. H'Ger a draft authorization letter to sign, which would give VINACO full authority to dispose of H'Xuân's remains and indemnify VINACO of all wrongdoing. H'Ger refused to sign it. She insisted on having her daughter's remains repatriated for proper burial in Vietnam according to the Catholic traditions. In the ensuing days, Ms. Lê Thị Toan, who recruited H'Xuân for VINACO, repeatedly called her to press her to agree to cremation. See video of Ms. Toan's calls:

On August 19, H'Ger sent a demand letter, which was drafted by BPSOS's team of legal experts, to Department of Overseas Labor (DoLAB) at the Ministry of Labor, Invalids and Social Affairs (MOLISA), and the Public Security Departments of Dak Lak, Gia Lai and Thanh Hoa Provinces, the Director of the Foreign Affairs Department of Dak Lak Province. It demands investigation into the following issues:

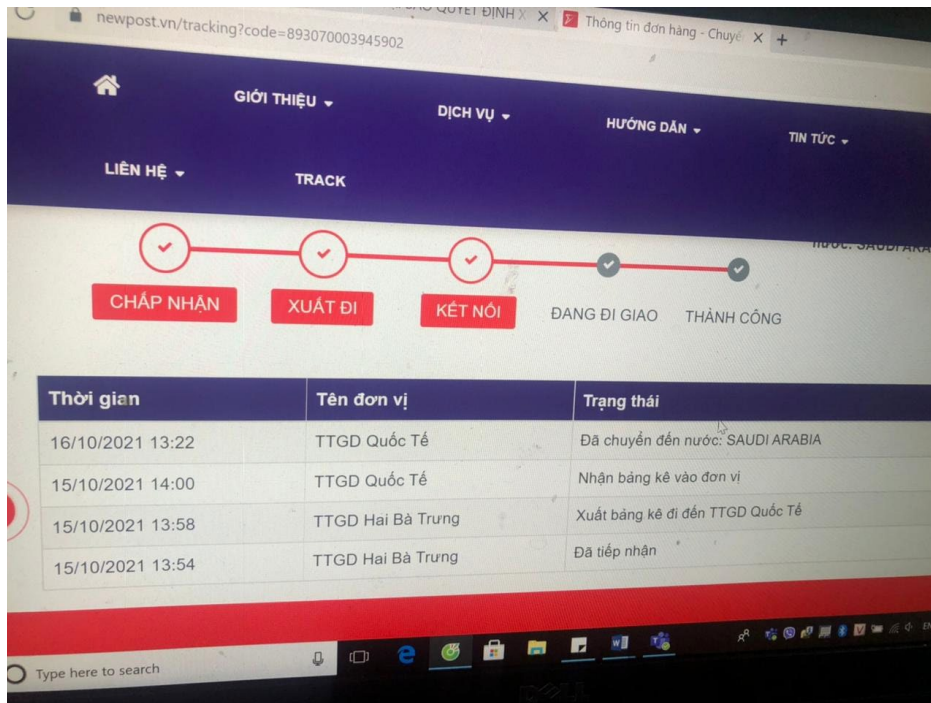

1. VINACO sent a minor to Saudi Arabia without parental consent.
2. VINACO did not provide the family with a copy of its contract with H'Xuân and the latter's employment contract with her Saudi employer.
3. H'Xuân's passport was issued with the incorrect year of birth (1996 instead of 2003). The crime of labor trafficking of a minor involved all three provinces: VINACO applied for H'Xuân's passport in Gia Lai Province, which was not her province of residence (Dak Lak Province). VINACO took H'Xuân to Thanh Hoá Province, where this recruitment agency operates, for training before departure for Saudi Arabia.
4. Investigation into VINACO and its recruiters for acts of human trafficking.
5. Investigation into the causes of H'Xuân's death.
6. Repatriation of H'Xuân's remains for proper burial.

The Saudi Government notified the Vietnamese embassy in Riyadh that September 16 would be the deadline for the latter's response regarding repatriating the remains of H'Xuân. Otherwise the Saudi authorities would proceed with her burial. This deadline was communicated by IOM to the H'Xuân's family via BPSOS on September 13.

On September 15, the Consular Affairs Department at MOFA advised, via IOM, that H'Ger used the information in the household registration, which shows the correct year of birth (2003), for the authorization letter. However, VINACO insisted that H'Ger used the (false) birth year of 1996 on H'Xuân's passport. The local government could only certify information on documents it issued, including the birth certificate and the household registration, both of which had 2003 as the year of birth. They could not certify the birth year of 1996 on the passport, which was issued by the Immigration Department of the Ministry of Public Security.

VINACO gave H'Ger the contact information of a lawyer in Buon Ma Thuot City who could get a place to notarize the letter of authorization with the incorrect birth year. On September 22, H'Ger finally got the letter certified in Buon Ma Thuot.

With the help of BPSOS, H'Ger retained a translation service provider in Ha Noi to help with both Arabic and English translation of the authorization letter. On October 7, the certified translation of the authorization letter was sent to the Consular Affairs Department for its legalization stamp. On October 15, the said service provider sent the legalized, certified translation by express mail to the Vietnamese embassy in Saudi Arabia.

On November 1, a person named Nam claiming to be from the Immigration Department of the Ministry of Public Security called H'Ger and notified her that H'Xuân's remains would be repatriated in a fortnight. On the same day, VINACO sent its report to the Department of Overseas Labor, the Consular Affairs Department, the Vietnamese Embassy in Saudi Arabia, and the Labor Management Committee in Saudi Arabia, falsely claiming that H'Xuân was born in 1996, that it had received H'Ger's authorization letter on October 4, and had it translated, certified, legalized and transmitted to the Vietnamese embassy in Saudi Arabia on October 11.

However, on November 5, H'Ger received notice from the Vietnamese government that the remains of her daughter had been buried in Saudi Arabia on October 10 per a communication from the Saudi government dated November 1.

Valuable time had been wasted because:

- Neither the Vietnamese embassy in Saudi Arabia nor the Consular Affairs Department of MOFA contacted H'Xuân's family directly to secure the letter of authorization;
- VINACO insisted that the birth year of 1996 on the H'Xuân's passport be used instead of her correct birth year of 2003.

H'Xuân's family spent a relatively significant amount of money but fruitlessly on the letter of authorization and other efforts to bring home her remains.

Responding to the intense coverage of this case in the international media, the Vietnamese government appeared to side with VINACO. On October 7, Ms. Lê Thị Thu Hằng, MOFA's Spokesperson, announced that "on July 8, 2021, a Vietnamese female worker born in 1996, originally from Dak Lak Province, died while being treated at the North Medical Tower of Saudi Arabia."¹ Besides giving the incorrect date of death, Ms. Thu Hằng, by insisting that H'Xuân was born in 1996, apparently sought to deny that a minor had been trafficked to a foreign country under Vietnam's state-run labor export program.

On October 25, five UN Special Rapporteurs sent a joint allegation letter (JAL) to the governments of Vietnam and Saudi Arabia, citing the case of H'Xuân Siu. See:

For their own safety, the information below is not to be disclosed to the public:

On November 11, Mr. Nguyễn Luyến, CEO of VINACO, and his secretary, Ms. Phạm Thị Thi, came to H'Xuân Siu's family home. They were accompanied by government officials, including:

1. Mr. Lục Văn Thòòng, Deputy Chair of the People's Committee of Cư A Mung Commune;
2. Mr. Phạm Văn Quảng from the public security police;
3. Nguyễn Thanh Hiền, representing the District's Labor Office;
4. Mr. Kpa Y Càn, cadre of the commune's People's Committee.

They met with H'Xuân's mother H'Ger Siu and older sister H'Xoan Siu. Mr. Luyến handed them 159,230,000 VND in backpay for H'Xuân's 18 months of salary, including 115,00,000 VND delivered directly in cash and the rest (44,000,000 VND) deposited in the bank account of Mr. Kpa Y Càn. See acknowledgement of receipt in Appendix 9. This amount was later delivered to H'Xuân's family.

In addition, Mr. Luyến offered the family 30,000,000 VND in assistance after the return of H'Xuân's remains – on July 22, 2021, VINACO already offered 20,000,000 VND. The family did not want to accept this assistance but was pressured to accept it – accepting it could be construed by VINACO as acknowledgement of satisfactory completion of VINACO's contractual agreement. See agreement statement that H'Xoan was asked to sign at the end of the meeting. H'Xuân's family wanted to pursue their demand for police investigation into the trafficking of a minor to Saudi Arabia under the state-run labor export program. See Appendix 10.

Mr. Luyến and government authorities at the scene instructed H'Ger and H'Xoan that the meeting and all related documents should not be divulged or else they would face actions from both VINACO and the government. At the meeting, government officials intensely questioned H'Xoan about her contacts with human rights organizations overseas and advocates in Vietnam. They questioned her about those who helped her mother with drafting the multiple petitions and communications to labor export company VINACO, MOLISA, police departments, etc. They then took her mobile phone to search all her text messages with BPSOS' legal experts and with VINACO was involved in the trafficking of another minor from H'Xuân's same village: Ms. H'Ngọc Nie, born in 2003. She attended the same Arabic language class in Thanh Hoa Province as H'Xuân. They both were sent off to Saudi Arabia around the same time. H'Ngọc Nie was badly mistreated while in Saudi Arabia. She paid her own way home in September 2020.

Information about VINACO, Ms. Le Thi Toan, Mr. Nguyen Duy Khanh, and Mrs. Nhung is included in Appendix 7.

I alerted them about my lady boss beating me frequently and how they no longer like me; they beat me regularly and thus perhaps I must quit.

I also alerted Mrs. Nhung and Mr. Khánh, but they kept telling me to try and continue to work. I have tried my best and have no more strength left because I am exhausted.

I begged them to let me stay at their office, but they did not allow it because I might be infected with COVID.

I have not contracted COVID; I only feel pain and am exhausted.

Friend, I told you about my leaving them out of exhaustion. My employers hit me in the head.

My head already hurt before they started hitting it. They show no love.

When I could not prepare breakfast for mother and son/daughter, I told them that I was exhausted from lack of sleep. My eyes hurt and I could not sleep.

They angrily scolded me. I sought help from Mrs. Nhung, but she scolded me. My life is so miserable.

I wanted to go to a police station, but my lady boss said that she would take me just to the closest one.

They refused to take me to a police station in Riyadh. I suffer so much. They mistreated me.

I need them to take me to a police station in Riyadh; I need them to bring me there. I don't want to stay here. I am too exhausted.

I alerted Mrs. Nhung but she said she would not help me and did not agree for me to return.

She wanted me to go to a police station near my employer's house.

I may die if I remain here. Please ask your lady boss to let me work there for a month, to be near you. I cannot continue to work for my current lady boss.

Please ask your lady boss to help me if she needs another worker so that I can work for a month or two there, near you.

I don't want to work for my lady boss any more; they just beat me with a cord until I fainted.

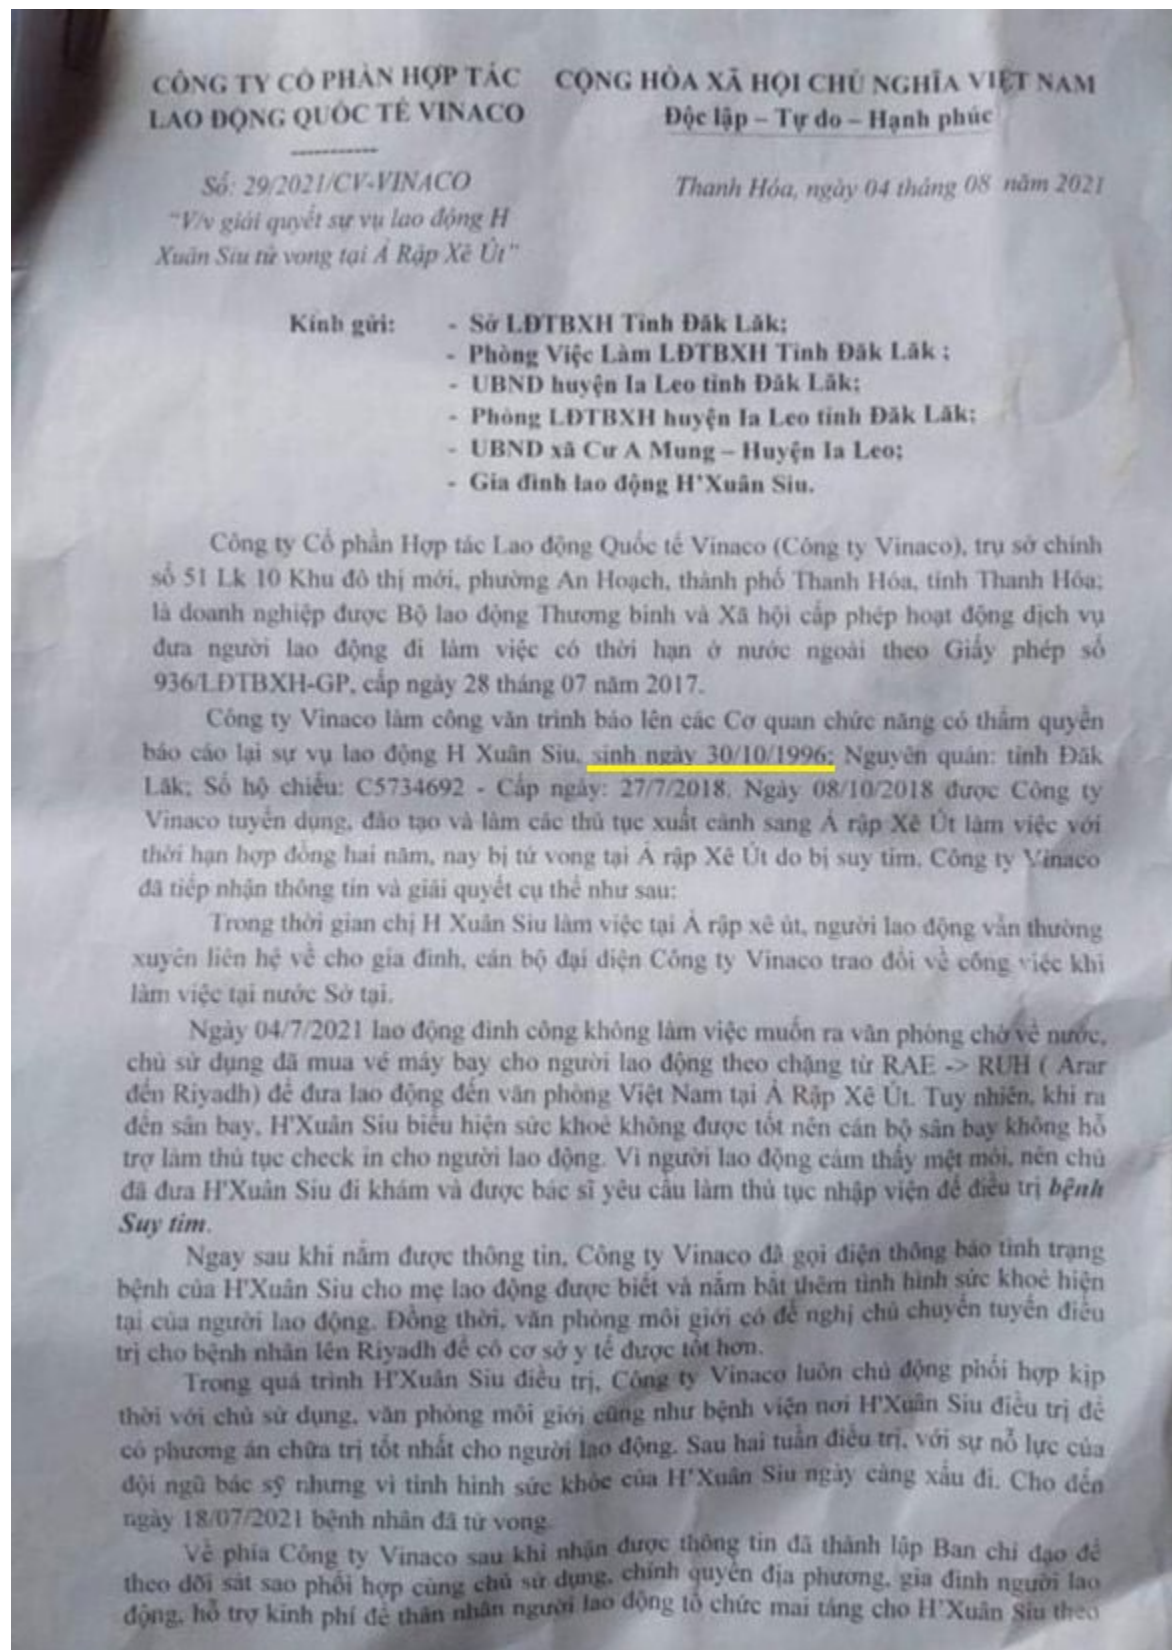

It is urgent. Please help me. The company, please help me. I can no longer stay with my current employer. My head hurts; I will not survive.

My head hurts so much; I fainted three times. I would be satisfied if I got an intravenous infusion.

I implored Mrs. Nhung and Mr. Khánh to pick me up, but they did not... I am so exhausted; I can no longer work. My eyes hurt unbearably.

At the hospital they said that I was not sick, but I felt so much pain when we returned to the house. I only need an intravenous infusion; this should be enough.
